MANY PERISH IN FLAMES IN BOSTON LODGING HOUSE

COUNT OF THE DEAD SHOWS 27 AS TOTAL

Unfortunates Trapped by Fire in Upper Floors of Arcadia Hotel Die
Most Horrible Death

SCORES INJURED; MANY OTHERS MISSING

Boston, Dec. 3.—Twenty-seven men were killed in a fire which swept through the upper floors of the Arcadia hotel, a lodging house in the south end early today. Others are missing. Scores were taken to hospitals suffering from burns and injuries received in jumping from windows.

Nearly all the bodies were terribly burned and mutilated, making identification impossible. The victims were men in poor circumstances who had resorted to the place for a night's lodging. Caught in the crowded bunk beds on the top floor of the five-story brick building and in the small rooms on the fourth floor, they were helpless. When they were aroused the stairways were in flames and there was a mad rush for the fire escapes at the rear. Practically all the men were naked.

Many were rescued by the firemen and police. Some escaped by walking a shaky plank stretched to an adjoining building or by jumping across a five-foot alley to neighboring roofs.

The property loss is only $25,000. The Arcadia was located at the corner of Washington and Laconia streets. The lower floors were occupied by stores.

The fire apparently started in a hallway close to the street floor. The flames swept up the wooden stairways and burned through the roof. According to William Walsh, the night clerk, there were 178 lodgers in the building when the fire was discovered by a passing newsboy. After turning in an alarm he rushed into the building awakening the occupants by his shouts. The top floor was one large room filled with cots and bunks.

Tiny Rooms Like Cells.

On the fourth floor, where the loss of life was heaviest, there were thirty tiny rooms, like cells with two cots in each. A hallway ran through the center. Nearly all those occupying rooms in the front of the building perished. The men in the rear rooms, opening on the fire escape, had locked the doors when

NO WARRANT IS AS YET ISSUED

Girl Bound Hand and Foot on Railroad Track is Recovering.

MIND STILL A BLANK

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 3.—No warrant has been issued up to today noon against the man who was taken into custody early today in connection with the case of Hazel Laine, who was found bound hand and foot on the railroad tracks a few miles east of here Monday night. The girl, who is 17 years old, was rapidly recovering from her sickness and fright today and the authorities believe she will soon be able to assist them materially in solving the mystery.

According to the officers, Miss Laine still insists she remembers nothing from the time she accepted candy from a stranger until she regained consciousness after having been rescued from in front of an approaching train. It is said today investigations confirmed the opinion of the officers that the girl had recently undergone surgical treatment.

The man now in custody insists he was never acquainted with the girl and declares he will have no difficulty in clearing himself.

Effort to Disprove Suicide
Theory Day's Feature in Craig Trial.

CORONER DURHAM
CHIEF WITNESS

Declares Death Wound Was Made by Two Strokes
of Knife.

Sheilville, Ind., Dec. 3.—In the effort to disprove the suicide theory the state today introduced at the trial of Dr. William R. Craig two witnesses who testified that the fatal wound in the neck of Dr. Helene Knabe began on the right side of the throat. A right handed person committing suicide naturally would draw the knife from left to right, it was contended.

Coroner Charles O. Durham was the chief witness at the morning session. His testimony was corroborated in the main by Dr. Ralph S. Chappell, who assisted at the post mortem examination. Dr. Durham declared that the neck wounds required two strokes of the knife and cross examination could not shake him on this point. Dr. Chappell made the same statement.

Coroner on Stand.

Coroner Charles O. Durham, of Indianapolis, was the chief witness for the state this morning at the trial of Dr. Wm. R. Craig for the murder of Dr. Helene Knabe. The decision that Dr. Knabe had been murdered "by unknown persons" was reached by the coroner after an investigation he made subsequent to the finding of the body.

On direct examination, Dr. Durham described the wounds on the neck and left arm of the woman and the condition of the apartment in which the corpse was found. He said there were two cuts in the throat which were slashed from ear to ear. The head was jammed under the brass rod at the head of the bed. He said he had to move the body to get the head from under the rail.

Blood-Stained Pillow.

The witness identified a blood stained pillow as one which partly covered the woman's nude body when he first examined it. He also identified the paring knife found on the chiffonier. In his opinion, he said, the wounds in Dr. Knabe's neck and arm could not have been inflicted by the paring knife.

On cross examination the witness ad-

Juarez, Mex., Dec. 3.—Confident that the seven federal generals who evacuated Chihuahua City with their troops intend to seek refuge in the United States and thus be beyond danger of being taken prisoners by the rebels Gen. Francisco Villa today sent more troops to attempt to intercept them. The generals, led by Gen. Salvador Mercado, whose desertion of Chihuahua and whose statements that he had no money to pay his troops are regarded as a virtual breakdown of the Huerta dictatorship so far as the north of Mexico is concerned, are headed for Ojinaga on the border. It is thought they will cross the river to Presidio.

L. P. STAPLEFORD HAS PASSED AWAY

Lifelong Citizen of Fort Wayne Dies at Age of 75 Years.

KNEW LOCAL HISTORY

Lucian P. Stapleford, former well known merchant and a life-long resident of Fort Wayne, died at 1:30 o'clock this morning at his home, 1209 Barr street, at the age of seventy-five years. Mr. Stapleford was one of Fort Wayne's best known citizens for many years. He was noted as an authority on the history of Fort Wayne and this part of Indiana.

LUCIAN P. STAPLEFORD.

and a striking feature of his character was his wonderful memory.

For the past three years he had been in ill health, but his condition was not regarded as critical until a short time ago and on Thanksgiving day he enjoyed a visit to the business district. His death was due directly to kidney disease.

He was born in Fort Wayne September 15, 1838, and was a son of Edward and Susan Stapleford, pioneer settlers of Allen county. As a young man he lived with his parents at the old Stapleford homestead on Barr street, near Washington boulevard. His father was a general merchant and the family was well known throughout this part of the state.

For many years Mr. Stapleford operated a general store at the corner of Columbia and Calhoun streets. He was also a great lover of travel, and spent much time in going about the country, but was forced to retire two years ago on account of failing health. He was a graduate of the old Fort Wayne Methodist Episcopal college, and on January 26, 1871, he was married to Caroline Heller, the ceremony having been solemnized at the Trinity Episcopal church by Rev. J. L. Large.

Surviving besides one son, Leon P. Stapleford, of San Francisco, he leaves four brothers, Henry, Charles, Clement and Frank Stapleford, of this city.

The son has been notified of his father's death and has started for Fort Wayne, hoping to arrive in time for the funeral.

Congress Under Way
in Washington.

RANDELL IN REPORT

Washington, Dec. 3.—The tenth annual convention of the national rivers and harbors congress, which will be in session three days, began today with an opening address by Secretary Lane to a thousand or more assembled delegates. Senator Randell, of Louisiana, president of the congress, presented his annual report.

Secretary Lane was substituted at the last moment for Secretary Bryan, who had been originally placed on the program to represent President Wilson, but who was prevented at the last moment from coming. Secretary Lane read a message of greeting from President Wilson congratulating the congress on what it already had accomplished and expressing the hope that river and harbor improvements could be conducted on the broad national lines of benefit to the whole country. Secretary Lane spoke along similar lines.

WATER TEN FEET DEEP IN STREETS

Police and Firemen Work
All Night in Rescue at East Waco, Tex.

FLOOD IN SOUTHLAND

Waco, Texas, Dec. 3.—Water ten feet deep flowed through the principal streets of East Waco today while the Brazos river flood passed all previous stages and continued to rise. The East Waco section began flooding last night when a levee gave way. There was no loss of life.

Police and firemen worked all night getting men, women and children safely out of East Waco. The main business thoroughfare of East Waco today was a mill race from end to end. Business houses and residences in the deepest part of the flood remained unmoved, but some of the lighter structures appeared to be in no position to stand a further rise of the flood. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad tracks in East Waco were flooded; early today and lines of other railroads in that section were only a few inches above water.

AT OTHER TEXAS POINTS.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 3.—Swollen by heavy rains, creeks and rivers reached a dangerous stage today in central Texas, much of west Texas and south Oklahoma. Waco was the only city of consequence in serious flood trouble, but Dallas expected a rise in Trinity river. The flood had receded at Austin and Fort Worth.

Interurban trolley service was stopped by serious wash outs in North Texas. On the Denver and Rio Grande, International and Great Northern and the Houston and Texas Central lines, train service was interrupted.

Near Cleburne many cattle were drowned.

STREET SINKS AS CAR PASSES OVER

Big Cave-in at Chicago is Attended by Plenty of Thrills.

ALL ESCAPE SAFELY

Chicago, Dec. 3.—A hundred workmen were busy today repairing last night's cave-in on Randolph street, near Wabash avenue. The damage extends 100 feet west from Wabash avenue and the pit is from six to ten feet deep. It was caused by faulty supports over a private tunnel being constructed between two buildings.

The collapse lasted four minutes and gave the night crew at work in the tunnel plenty of time to escape. The pavement rose gently while a street car was passing and the car, loaded with passengers, reached safety. A car following it was stopped when the motorman observed the strange phenomenon. He said the pavement rose like a pan of dough and sank almost noiselessly. Tall buildings in the vicinity are not in danger, according to engineers of the building department.

The motorman felt the car sinking beneath him and put on full speed. When firm ground was reached passengers and crew left the car and watched the street level fall until it was eight feet below normal.

A twenty-four inch water main was broken by the tons of sinking pavement and a miniature geyser sprouted. In a few minutes the depression was half filled with water, which also flowed into the sub-basement of the building under construction. The water was turned off by the fire department.

O'BRIEN'S MEMORY HAS FRESH CLUTCH

Overnight in Jail Brought Back Recollections of Another Time.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

"Well, Jack, can you recall this morning the last time you were in here?" queried Judge Mungovan.

"Yah, betcha, Judge. I remember it well," declared John O'Brien with great candor and some enthusiasm.

"I thought you would be able to come back on that little affair," said the court. "Think you can get out of town without breaking a leg?"

"I want only a chance, your honor, and I'll clean this town of myself on the first car out," promised O'Brien.

O'Brien was arrested at the interior ban terminal down and out and when Judge Mungovan asked him yesterday morning if he had ever before been in the city court O'Brien boldly and vehemently denied that he had. Judge Mungovan gave him a day's continuance to refresh his memory and O'Brien brought it much refreshed into court today.

Home to South Whitley.

When Rolo Royal reaches home, in South Whitley today he will exhibit some highly ornate physiognomical decorations acquired in this sinful city during the progress of a masterly rouse he pulled off in our midst. Rolo was picked up at the Nickel Plate depot yesterday morning and was still too much stewed to be given an impartial hearing. During his drunk some manifestly able-bodied person of ripe instinct had operated on Rolo's countenance and he will probably have to flash his credentials to convince the folks at home that he is really on South Whitley's who's who list.

Sound Over on Burglary Charge.

Neel Hanagan, charged with burglary, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the circuit court in the sum of $1,000. Hanagan is accused of having broken into the Jacob Weidman saloon, 1708 Lafayette street on the night of November 23 and stolen $20 cents in cash and several bottles of liquor. The burglar badly cut his hand in breaking the window through which entrance was gained and Hanagan has a sore hand that he does not satisfactorily account for. Detective Sergeant William F. Pappert made the arrest.

Other City Court Cases.

"And then he up and bit me," said Amanda Lewis in explaining to the court how it was that Eugene W. Wilkins committed assault and battery on her person. The affair was the result of a row in a laundry where the parties are employed. Wilkins was fined $1 and costs, which he paid.

John O'Neal and George Blake, two drunks, were sent over for eleven days each, and Orson Holmes, another drunk, was continued until the fifth inst.

Seventeen men were arraigned as motorists, vags or train climbers this morning. All were released and told to get out of town. Each had his story of loss of employment and a search for work. Ernest Flickman, a 19-year-old lad whose home is in New Albany, was one of a bunch of four picked up by Nickel Plate officers.

Joe Flannagan, a weak-willed fellow who was arrested from DeKalb county to Fort Wayne, and who thinks the Allen county jail a bully place to live, was shipped back to Auburn this morning. He drifted in more than a week ago.

REAL ESTATE MEN WILL CO-OPERATE

President Griffin, of the Commercial Club, Talks at Banquet.

NEED OF AUDITORIUM

The annual meeting and first annual banquet of the Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange was held Tuesday evening at the Wayne hotel. The banquet followed a brief business session at which time trustees for three years were elected as follows: Louis F. Curdes, George L. Ashley, Lee J. Nide, for two years; J. S. Peddicord, William P. Walsh and Walton H. Ingham, for one year; Frank Hildeman, Captain Isaac D'Isay and Joseph H. Ashley.

These trustees are to meet within the next few days for the election of officers, and it is said that in all probability the old officials will be re-elected, as follows: President, Louis F. Curdes; vice-president, Captain Isaac D'Isay; secretary, J. S. Peddicord; treasurer, George L. Ashley.

E. H. Kilbourne presided as toastmaster at the banquet, and among other things spoke was Louis Smith, of Indianapolis; John W. Roberts, secretary of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board, and President William M. Griffin, of the Fort Wayne Commercial club.

Mr. Smith spoke principally about the advantages of an organization of men in the same line of business and of the good such a body does for the city in which it exists. Numerous times he referred to the work of the Indianapolis organization in adding to the growth and beauty of the state capital. Mr. Roberts devoted considerable time to the discussion of social relations of the real estate exchange with other organizations of business men.

The Auditorium.

The Fort Wayne Real Estate exchange is planning to co-operate with the Fort Wayne Commercial club in working for the ultimate construction of a large auditorium in this city, and last evening they were treated to an address dealing with the project by Mr. Griffin, who told of the work done thus far. Mr. Griffin stated that the floods of last spring put a substantial breaker on the movement for the time, just as the Commercial club was preparing to go ahead with final plans for the building.

The urgent need of a suitable auditorium was shown when Mr. Griffin informed the real estate dealers that two large conventions were compelled to turn away from Fort Wayne this year, simply because there is no place in Fort Wayne where a large convention can be held. Mr. Griffin declared that if Fort Wayne wants to keep up with other cities of her class in the middle west, the business interests must get busy at once because a new auditorium is badly needed to aid in the progress of the city.

Announcement is made that a committee representing the real estate exchange is to be appointed to confer with Mr. Griffin concerning the proposed auditorium.

ARRESTED AT PEORIA.

Lafayette Lad Claims Shooting of Companion Was Accidental.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 3.—Edwin Mack, 18 years old, was arrested here last night on a charge of manslaughter. He is alleged to have killed Clarence McCormick, 17, of Lafayette, Ind., while the two were hunting last Saturday. Mack has confessed.

Mack in his confession to the police declared that he and McCormick while hunting were examining a revolver owned by the former. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the prisoner said, and his chum was shot through the body. Mack told the police that he was so badly frightened that he boarded a Lake Erie train and came to Peoria. Since Sunday, he said, he had been seeking work and today obtained a position in a bakery where he was to have commenced work tomorrow.

DIES AFTER BIRTHDAY.

Celebration Too Much for South Bend Woman of 97 Years.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 2.—Mrs. May Hutchins, 97 years old, died here yesterday from the effects of celebrating her birthday yesterday. Although not in good health, Mrs. Hutchins held her usual celebration Monday, and according to her friends was completely exhausted when the day ended. Shortly after eating her breakfast yesterday she became ill and died thirty minutes later.

Mrs. Hutchins came to South Bend when it was only a village with a single store, and at a time when many Indians lived in this neighborhood.

MORE BULLETS FLY IN STRIKE

It was said at labor headquarters that the employees of team owners, who sign the agreement, probably would be permitted to return to work at the general meeting of the union late today. The Central labor union yesterday requested the teamsters' officials to send the drivers for employers who had signed contracts back to work, but Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer of the union, then declared that no one should return to work until 1,500 men were insured union conditions and wages.

Fewer Persons on Streets.

Fewer persons were on the street today than at any time since the strike began. It is believed the shooting affairs yesterday in which one man was killed and five injured, had a tendency to keep the curious at home. There were several minor disorders, but no serious trouble had been reported.

More companies proposed to put their delivery systems in operation. One official said twenty of his company's wagons were on the streets and had met with no interference.

Eugene Lutledge, 18, was shot in the leg just before noon when a crowd, attacking a coal wagon was fired upon by strike breakers on the wagon. The boy's injuries are not considered fatal.

The five men on the wagon, who were arrested, gave their names as George Williams, Harry Jones, James Todd and Charles Kelley, of Chicago, and T. J. Clifford, of Whiting, Ind. They said they had been sent here by a detective agency to guard wagons. They did not have special police powers.

The food situation, affected to some extent by the teamsters' strike, showed much improvement today. Wagons of manufacturers and dealers in all kinds of foods being sent out to make deliveries.

Twenty-four wagons from the Taggart Baking company were delivering bread as usual. They were manned by the regular drivers, who did not join the union. The Tolk Sanitary Milk company sent wagons to every part of the city.

Approximately forty wagons were in use. The company delivered double supply to many customers Tuesday and did not have to risk all of them today. Other dairy companies were doing business and many of the wagons were seen on the down town streets. The coal companies were resuming deliveries of coal. The Indianapolis Coal company had ten wagons at work and was getting ready to send out more. A. B. Meyer & Co. was also making deliveries. The Irvington Coal company was operating their wagons and other companies in various parts of the city were beginning business. There were at least a dozen wagons on commission row during the morning, but normal business had not been resumed at the commission houses.

J. H. Mason, the negro barber, who was shot through the abdomen yesterday by special officers guarding an ice wagon, died at a hospital this afternoon. This makes the second fatality during the strike. Claude Lewis having been killed and three others injured at the time Mason was shot. The other injured are expected to recover.

mitted there were other knives on the premises, other knives in the doctor's surgical instruments with which the cuts might have been made.

Mr. Spaul in cross examining the witness, asked whether the wound might not have been made by one swipe of the knife. Dr. Durham insisted that the wound appeared to have been made with two strokes.

"Wasn't the wound deeper on the left side?"

"Yes, it was from a quarter of an inch to one-half an inch deeper than on the right side." The witness was asked whether fresh blood stains on one of the scrupels could have been washed off. "They might have been," replied Dr. Durham.

Made by Two Strokes.

Dr. Ralph S. Chappell, who helped conduct the post mortem examination of the body, was the next witness. He said the wound in the throat began on the right side and was made by two strokes of the knife. The first cut ended just under the chin where the second began. He said, "Death must have ensued within two or three minutes in the opinion of the witness. The defense asked only a few questions on cross examination and then the witness was excused. The court recessed.

OFFICERS IN WAITING.

Plymouth, Eng., Dec. 3.—Preparations are underfoot to have been made for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, on her arrival here from the United States on board the Majestic tonight. A force of suffragettes, under the command of "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, will be on the spot ready to fight for their leader's freedom.

The chief constable at Plymouth later confirmed the report that Mrs. Pankhurst is to be arrested. He spent the day preparing an adequate force to deal with any attempt at rescue by the militant suffragettes.

COMMITTEES TO MEET.

A meeting of the recently appointed Lincoln highway committee of the Fort Wayne Commercial club will be held this evening for the purpose of renewing interest in the proposed coast to coast road.

President William M. Griffin has appointed two additional members on the committee. They are County Treasurer J. Herman Bueter and Sheriff A. C. Gladue.

A meeting of the Commercial club committee on manufacturing will be held late today. Members of this committee are Van H. Ferrine, C. E. Fitch, W. F. Granger, H. C. Rockhill and Abe Ackerman.

CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY.

Louis Martin is today celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with William Hahn & Co., of the Boston store. Before taking employment with Mr. Hahn Mr. Martin worked for ten years at the White House, beginning as a cash boy when the store was on West Berry street, on the property now occupied by the Arcade.

NO TREMBOR HERE.

Mayor Cole, of Quincy, Mich., telephoned the police department today to inquire if Fort Wayne was shocked by an earthquake last night at 7:30 o'clock. Mayor Cole said Quincy was rocked somewhat and the report there was that Fort Wayne had been shaken. No seismic phenomenon has lately disturbed Fort Wayne.

COUNT OF THE DEAD SHOWS 27 AS TOTAL

they went to bed and those in front were unable to reach the fire escape. When the firemen arrived flames were shooting twenty feet in the air from the windows on the fourth and fifth floors and the fire escapes and the roof were a mass of shrieking, struggling humanity. Despite shouts of assurance from below, three men jumped from the roof. Two were instantly killed. The third, who had wrapped a mattress about himself, escaped with a few bruises. Life nets were quickly stretched by the firemen and many were rescued in this manner. Others were taken down ladders, with the flames sweeping about them.

Heat Drives Firemen Back.

The intense heat soon drove the firemen from their ladders and made it necessary to fight the fire from the street and from the elevated railway structure running in front of the building. The fire was in the heart of a crowded tenement and low class hotel districts. Hundreds of occupants of adjoining buildings rushed to the street when the great quantity of apparatus called out by three alarms changed up to their doors. Scores of excited foreigners crowded about the burning building and impeded the firemen in their work. A large squad of police had great difficulty in forcing back the throng. It was nearly an hour after the firemen arrived before they were able to enter the lodging house.

Littered With Dead.

The first man to ascend a smoking ladder, shouted: "My God, boys, that place is littered with dead!" Medical Examiner George B. McElrath arrived shortly afterward and soon was joined by Dr. Timothy Leary, associate medical examiner. It was a gruesome sight as the bodies were removed in the early dawn. Onlookers turned away as the burned and mangled bodies were lowered one by one to the streets and placed in wicker baskets.

Two bodies were found in the ruins during the forenoon, bringing the death list up to twenty-seven. The only body identified was that of George F. Adams, of South Boston. One of the injured is Frank Harris, of South Market street, Chicago.

Before the ruins had cooled, two investigations were begun. One was undertaken by the grand jury, when it viewed the scene and prepared to hear testimony regarding the manner in which the owners and lessees of the property had observed the building and fire regulations.

Another probe by the building inspection department of the city was started under orders from Mayor Fitzgerald.

window of headquarters. Informed the passersby that in two days the solicitors have secured $31,255.70 toward the hospital building fund.

Workers who reported at headquarters this noon in person or communicated with the officials by telephone, all have encouraging reports of today's donations and it is believed that the total secured in the third day will be as much if not more than Tuesday's total.

This is in one way a surprise campaign in that the workers are getting donations in many instances from people, who though well to do as far as finances are concerned, never before contributed to a public subscription campaign. They are giving generously toward the Hope hospital fund and the campaign is moving with marked vim. It will require hardly more than one week's time, according to the present rate of donations, to pass the desired amount of $150,000.

Workers to Meet.

A mass meeting of Hope hospital workers is to be held this evening at the assembly room of the courthouse to make additional plans for the remainder of the campaign. The different canvassers will be asked to tell of their work, how the public is meeting their canvass and also tell how much of their territory has been covered.

Numerous fraternal organizations of the city promise to take the campaign up before the executive boards with a view of later making handsome donations. Several lodges have already subscribed generously to the fund.

Fort Wayne school girls are interesting themselves in the campaign and have volunteered to sell Fort Wayne daily papers on the streets Thursday. The proceeds of their sale will go to the hospital fund.

At Presidio they are expected to be arrested by the United States military authorities, taken to Marfa and thence to San Antonio. Their arrest on crossing the river would follow as a matter of course under a ruling of Secretary of War Garrison.

Wealthy Citizens Flee.

With the generals are many subordinate officers, about 2,000 federal regular soldiers and more than a thousand persons of the wealthier class of Chihuahua who took to flight rather than face an attack by the rebels. Gen. Pascual Orozco and Gen. Inez Salazar, believed to be with Mercedo, are under indictment returned in the federal court in El Paso, Texas, for violation of the neutrality law. Salazar is out on bond but Orozco never was arrested.

Villa had little hope that his soldiers would be able to overtake the federalists who had left Chihuahua several days before the fact of their flight became known.

Regarded as Unusual.

That Mercedo, after handing the portfolio of state to Federico More, civil governor ad interim, should on behalf of himself and subordinates offer to surrender and then cross the border was regarded by Villa as an unusual proceeding.

The only place they will surrender will be in the United States," said Villa as he sat at breakfast in his Juarez headquarters today and patted an automatic revolver that lay among the spoons and forks at his plate. Carlos A. Heberlein, of Los Angeles, Cal., who came from Chihuahua with the peace commission requesting Villa to occupy the city said that before the federalists left the penitentiary was emptied of all the political prisoners.

"Everything possible was done to treat the citizens humanely," said Heberlein. "Patience, however, was worn out. The people have been in a panic for so long they could endure it no longer. All the money had been withdrawn from the city. The repeated defeat of the federal troops as they ventured forth and came back broken was discouraging. There is no money to pay the troops and everybody lost heart."

HUNTINGTON'S BUSIEST MAN.

Frank Hoover, in Trouble With Wife, Hangs Up a New Mark.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 3.—Cut in the head by a fork, wielded in the hands of his irate spouse, arrested for assault and battery and fined $10.00 and sued for divorce, all in the same day, were the misfortunes that came to Frank F. Hoover.

Frank and his wife became entangled in an altercation in the morning and Frank landed on his wife's nose. She resented the attack and struck him with a fork, cutting open his head, he said. Then she had him arrested for assault and battery.

While still smarting from the blow she had received, Mrs. Hoover filed a suit for divorce, alleging cruel and inhuman treatment and other things unbecoming in a husband.

Then she appeared in Squire G. W. Stult's court and acted as prosecuting witness against her husband, which resulted in his being found guilty.

This is the third or fourth time Mrs. Hoover has filed a divorce suit against her husband, each time having reconciled herself to him.

"I WILL TAKE MORE EVIDENCE."

Avilla, Dec. 3.—Further evidence in the telephone franchise fight between the Bell and Farmers' Mutual will be taken in depositions next Monday morning when attorneys for the two companies will examine several witnesses who were unable to appear when the representatives of the state public utility commission conducted a hearing here several weeks ago. When all of this evidence is in it will be submitted to the commission for some final disposition of the trouble. Residents of Avilla and vicinity are awaiting with much interest the outcome of the fight, it being the general desire that there only be one telephone company in the field. Two companies with two exchanges are regarded by a majority as a nuisance in a territory of this size.

HELD FOR MURDER ATTEMPT.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 3.—Aaron Weaver, a well known resident of Syracuse, is being held in the county jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The case grew out of domestic troubles arising from a disposition on the part of Weaver's wife and three daughters to visit the home of Melvin and Hattie Davis in that town. Weaver claimed that the house was not such a one as he would care to have his family visit and he wanted both his wife and daughters not to go there. They disobeyed him repeatedly and finally, last Friday night, finding his wife there, he fired eight shots through the windows of the Davis home, completely riddling the glass. Nobody was injured, however, and public sentiment in Syracuse is much in sympathy with Weaver.

FATHER AND SON REUNITED.

Bluffton, Ind., Dec. 3.—Willard and Harold Fryback, of Frankfort, are in Bluffton and visited over Sunday with Willard Fryback's father, Frank Fryback and wife. This Willard Fryback is a half-brother of the young man of the same name who was killed in an automobile accident at Fort Wayne this fall. He is a son of Mr. Fryback by a former marriage and met his father Sunday for the first time since he was one year old. His father and mother separated when he was that age and he had been reared by his mother's people. Harold Fryback is a son of Joshua Fryback, who with his wife was here to attend the funeral of Willard Fryback a few months ago. Both the young men work for the Clover Leaf at Frankfort.

WANTS DAMAGES FOR BEATING.

Bluffton, Ind., Dec. 3.—George D. Snyder, the well known insurance man, has filed a suit for $5,000 damages from Ed S. Jones as a result of an encounter with Jones on the 17th of last October. The encounter took place in front of the Club restaurant and Jones was the aggressor in the affair striking Snyder several times. He claimed that Snyder had taken advantage of him in a deal involving an insurance policy.

COMBINE TO BAR HUNTERS.

Goshen, Ind., Dec. 3.—Twenty-one members of the Farm Betterment club have given official notice that they will not allow hunting on their lands and that all hunters who violate the law will be prosecuted. Several meetings have been held by these farmers and a thorough organization perfected. Lloyd Yoder is secretary. The membership includes John Williams, George Whittle, Harvey Babb, Clyde Lake, Henry Als-house, Vern McDonald, J. J. Kiefer, Gus Davis, Menno Yoder, Grant Williams, Albert Huneryager, Frank Kaufman, George Kime, George Gilbert, Mrs. Harriet Walters, Joseph Karn, Mrs. Susan Hartzler, Daniel Smoker, Bert Dukes, A. Cooper and Lloyd Yoder.

"MINISTER" GOES TO PRISON.

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 3.—G. Griffin Estelle, 30, was sentenced to from two to fourteen years in the Michigan City prison on his plea of guilty to a statutory charge. Minnie Hildreth, 14, was the complaining witness. Estelle was arrested at noon and three hours later had received his sentence in the superior court. Estelle has been posing as a minister and last Sunday night filled the pulpit in a local church. He also taught a class in Sunday school for a short time and has been connected with the local Salvation Army. The girl has lost her reason as the result of the treatment of her. The two had been keeping company for several weeks.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

If Christians 2:1-17.

1. But I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.
2. For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?
3. And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.
4. For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.
5. But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.
6. Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.
7. So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.
8. Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.
9. For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.
10. To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgive it, for your sakes forgive I it in the person of Christ.
11. Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.
12. Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,
13. I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.
14. Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.
15. For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:
16. To the one we are the savour of death unto them; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?
17. For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ.

The President to Congress

President Wilson's first annual message to congress, awaited with much interest because of the multitude of matters pressing for adjustment under the commission given the president and his party by the popular verdict which placed them in power, is so admirable a document that it is difficult to see how it can possibly be met by unfavorable criticism. Its very brevity makes it attractive, and a digestion of its declarations and its recommendations demonstrates that President Wilson has neither lost sight of his original purposes nor shifted his course. There is no disposition to hedge and no indication of weakening in the program to which he has addressed himself.

The two features which stand out most strikingly in the document are the president's square-toed stand for the direct presidential primary, and his position urging governmental railroad development in Alaska. In advocating the direct nomination of candidates for the presidency by the voters at nation-wide primaries, Mr. Wilson has undoubtedly struck a popular chord that will make him still stronger with the people. The agitation for the development of Alaska is now but fairly taking shape, and the president's endorsement will inevitably add strength to it. Arbitration treaties, the Mexican situation, the currency, farm credits, anti-trust legislation and our duty to our insular possessions, other important topics touched upon are all treated decisively. Mr. Wilson has given a new demonstration of his grasp of public questions and of his courageous purposes. We believe his message will rank with the most notable of presidential utterances.

General Villa is now confidently declaring that he will have Huerta whipped within a month, and that the constitutionalists will be in complete control of the war-racked country. Somehow such a possibility raises the question of whether the new crowd will be in any degree an improvement over the old one. There's always a chance to take with the Mexican way of doing things, and nothing there is certain but uncertainty.

Labor leaders at Indianapolis have asked a congressional inquiry into conditions there which have resulted in the strike of the teamsters following so closely upon the street railway difficulty. Well, doubtless Indianapolis would gladly welcome any sort of arrangement that would substitute peace for the disturbed conditions that appear to be rapidly getting no better.

Because the man she was to have wedded was twenty minutes late for the nuptial ceremony, a girl at Jeffersonville declined to wait longer and promptly married another man who chanced to be within reach at the moment. Apparently the old adage regarding the flight of time has made a profound impression at Jeffersonville.

With so many opportunities for having a part, however small, in dispensing Christmas cheer in Fort Wayne this year to those who might otherwise be forgotten, you should not fail to share in the privilege.

PRESS ON ENGLAND AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Answer to Americans.

Boston Union and Advertiser: "As if in answer to those Americans who have been aspersing the Monroe doctrine, Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of England, defends it."

British Interest.

Baltimore Sun: "As to the importance of the British government's endorsement of the Monroe doctrine, that, perhaps, can be overrated. It is clearly to the interest of that nation at this time to endorse the doctrine."

Sympathy in Ideals.

Pittsburgh Sun: "In his speech Lord Haldane declared that the United States and Great Britain are in entire sympathy in the high ideal they cherish concerning humanity. For this reason the Monroe doctrine was long ago accepted by the British government, and it is as good now as then."

England's Assent.

New York Times: "The proclaiming of that doctrine by President Monroe ninety years ago was received in England not only with satisfaction, but with enthusiasm," and the motives of policy which then prompted England's assent to the doctrine are now even more obvious."

Demolished Idea.

Schenectady Union Star: "Viscount Haldane, at the American Thanksgiving dinner in London, demolished the idea that England looks with disfavor upon the American attitude toward Mexico."

No Nation.

Boston Transcript: "No nation today openly challenges Monroeism, and if there is secret antagonism to it, it is only weaklings in Washington can give that antagonism appreciable strength."

Doctrine's Origin.

New York Tribune: "The Monroe doctrine was in its origin the work not of dreamers, but of men of action, and as its origin was so should its completion be."

Original Declaration.

New York Mail: "British policy has supported the Monroe doctrine from Canning's time to the present. President Monroe's original declaration was suggested by Canning, though perhaps Canning did not realize exactly the turn it was going to take."

BRAINS IN ROAD BUILDING.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Nothing speaks more for the early reduction of the good roads problem to a tangible basis than developing national and state interest in the practical phases of road building. Indiana, with its new system of county road superintendents or engineers to be appointed with the beginning of the new year, will be in position to attack the road question with expert knowledge. Co-operation and collaboration between these superintendents, the Indiana Good Roads league and the office of public roads of the department of agriculture ought to bring commendable results.

The experiments of the federal government in questions of road construction are various enough now to afford a working plan for practically all localities in the country, and the knowledge of the road experts of the government is available, either directly or through state road organizations, to any county or any community that seeks it. The national workers on the road problem have sought to determine how roads shall be built and what kinds of roads are best for particular kinds of traffic. The immense amount of money everywhere expended for road building, with paltry results to show for it, has been wasted for the most part because basic principles in the building of roads were lacking. Now that there is a dependable field of data available for every community, with agents of the United States government ready to respond to requests for personal inspection and advisory work if the requests are properly submitted, no longer can there be an excuse for haphazard and futile road-building methods.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy; and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. REMEDY AS BAD AS THE DISEASE.

"On the seventh of February I contracted a severe cold followed by a cough and final loss of voice. I tried many remedies none of which did me any good. I then went to my family doctor and he swabbed my throat five or six times with some abominable stuff. I think it was beneficial but the remedy was as bad as the disease. At last the thought struck me—why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and this morning my voice is fairly good and is gradually growing better," writes H. C. Clay, publisher of The Reporter, Rapid City, Montana. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Society

A beautiful bridge party that engaged the attention of many ladies of the city and an unusual number of visiting guests took place this afternoon at the Anthony hotel when Mrs. Abe Minsky and Mrs. Ralph Clark entertained nearly one hundred ladies. Mrs. Minsky's sister, Mrs. S. J. Greenstein, of Louisville, Ky., received with the hostesses in the balcony of the hotel where the party was given. There were many palms and ferns used in decoration and they were relieved by a large basket of pink roses where the receiving ladies stood and other vases of fluffy yellow chrysanthemums. Little Regine Minsky, in the daintiest of white lingerie frock with pink ribbons, passed the tally cards. After the bridge game the guests enjoyed a visit and were later served an elegant supper in several courses. The out of town guests who found this affair one of unusual pleasure as it gave them an opportunity to meet many old friends, included Mrs. I. Oppenheim and Mrs. Ben Oppenheim of North Manchester; Mrs. Fred S. Piowaty, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. Alfred Loewenstein and Mrs. Sidney Westheimer, of St. Joe, Mo.; Mrs. J. R. Mayerfeld, of South Bend; Mrs. H. E. Fleishman, of Chicago, and Mrs. A. Weitzstein, of Butte, Mont.

Invitations are being issued every day to the "tea dances" to be given on December 27, in the Commercial club. The hours are to be 5 to 12 o'clock and a supper will be served in the early part of the evening. The dance is in charge of the young women who have had the subscription dances for the past two seasons. These tea dances are the popular thing socially in the eastern cities this season. It is proving an agreeable change to dine and then dance, rather than to dance and then wind up with a supper.

Two lovely parties were given yesterday in honor of the following visiting ladies in the city: Mrs. A. Lantley, Mrs. Mose Stiefel and Mrs. Berol Scheimer, of New York city; Mrs. Alfred Loewenstein and Mrs. Westheimer, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Mrs. S. Becker, of Chicago. Mrs. Theodore Frank entertained the ladies at luncheon and in the afternoon they witnessed the production of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," at the Majestic theater, as guests of Mrs. Julius Nathan and Mrs. M. Frank.

The following clubs of Fort Wayne are members of the state body and the names of their presidents and secretaries are also given: lights the essentials of the romance between the renegade monk and Domini. The story of the play follows the novel, a fact that the many thousand readers of the book will follow with evident enjoyment. The glowing and beautiful descriptions of the various scenes depicted by Hichens in the book are also closely followed, in fact, the authors, managers and producers spent many weeks in Morocco, where the scenes are laid, to get the desired atmosphere. Many animals were also brought over to this country, camels, goats, horses, asses, doves and other live stock. Perhaps the most interesting of all animals brought were the Bedouins—a fierce tribe from the desert to the number of twenty or more. These Bedouins or Arabs are the best fighters and riders in all Africa. Their heroism has been proven in many clashes with the French troops before France conquered that country. To this day the Arabs refuse to be conquered and a report of trouble in Morocco would depopulate the Arab contingent now with "The Garden of Allah." Prominent among the members of the cast presenting the dramatic portion of the play may be found Miss Sarah Truax, Lawson Butt, John Blair, Antonio Salarno, William Jeffrey, Frank Kingston and Florence Lester.

The College Club—Mrs. Fred H. McCullough, president; Mrs. Martha B. Hanna, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Clapham, federation secretary.

AT THE EMPRESS

Thursday afternoon brings another souvenir day at the Empress theater, and as is customary, capacity will rule. The plan of giving away silverware by the coupon system, which enable a feminine patron to secure large and expensive pieces of ware has proven a happy success. Spoons, sugar shells or napkin rings may be secured with one admission, or by coming to two matinees, a table spoon, knife, fork, oyster fork, nut pick set or any number of other articles may be had. The quality of the Empress ware is well known and the pieces are all of the same pattern. Friday night there will be a tango dancing contest on the stage, in which a half dozen or more of local dancers will compete for a prize of ten dollars in gold. Free tango lessons are given every morning on the Empress stage from eleven to twelve. Saturday afternoon toys will be presented to all children attending the matinee. The Rosow midgets will furnish the big attraction for the youngsters on that afternoon.

AT THE TEMPLE

Handsome china plates will be the souvenirs at the Temple theater for tomorrow and as the advance sale of seats is large, you had better order yours now. Al Lewis and company, in vaudeville's funniest sketch, "The New Leader," is the headliner at the Temple for the last half of the week. This is the act that caused such a big hit over the Keith and Orpheum circuits, and will no doubt be one of the biggest hits this city ever experienced. Knight Brothers and Sawelle, a trio that ranks second to none, will be seen in that funny little act, "The Fellow With the Green Umbrella." The Marshes, "The Silent Duke and the Beau Brummel" is another big Keith act, while Laypo and Benjamin, Hebrew acrobats, who have just returned from Europe, and Elina Gardner, that dainty little comedienne, are sure to uphold the high standard set by the other acts on the bill.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Pavlova, the Dancer, and Symphony Orchestra.

Pavlova is not a Russian. She is universal. Through her art she speaks every language. Her art appeals to all and a lot more than a grand opera artist singing in a foreign tongue. Everybody understands and is thrilled by Pavlova's wonderful dancing. Pavlova and her company provide "the dancing revolution of the age."

But through the artist universal, Pavlova is a Russian subject. She confesses to great unhappiness on one occasion because the Czar did not kiss her. The pupils of the Imperial Russian Ballet institute gave a performance, and Alexander III and the Empress Marie and several members of the imperial family attended, as has always been the custom. After the ballet the children were permitted to go out into the auditorium of the theater and the czar took one of them, little Stanislava Belinskaya, up in his arms.

Pavlova burst into tears. They asked why she was crying and she said she wanted the emperor to take her in his arms. The Grand Duke Vladimir lifted her to his knee and tried to comfort her, but Pavlova would not be consoled in this way.

"I want the emperor to kiss me," she sobbed. The grand duke was greatly amused, and all the members of the imperial family laughed heartily when told the cause of Pavlova's grief.

With her brilliant throng and great orchestra, Pavlova will be at the Majestic Saturday night.

"The Garden of Allah" Coming for One Week

"The Garden of Allah" the big spectacle made from Robert Hichens' novel by that author and Mary Anderson De Navarro will be the attraction at the Majestic starting Dec. 15. The engagement is for one week.

The presentation of the dramatization of the Hichens' novel is backed up and fortified by the superb pictorial and realistic manner of the production. The massive beauty of the settings and effects is utilized to drive across the foot

TIGHT SHOES AND WRINKLES.

Nothing brings wrinkles to the face so quickly as tight shoes. "Now, what," you may ask, "have tight shoes to do with wrinkles?" Simply this, that when the feet are uncomfortable the face reflects their agony and little lines appear about the eyes and mouth. The eyes themselves take on a dull look and the whole appearance of the face is altered most unbecomingly.

Therefore, common sense is the better part of vanity, and the woman who is wise foregoes tight shoes if it is necessary to wear tight shoes to procure this beauty asset. She eases her pedal extremities in comfortable and well-fitting boots. This does not mean that she need despair of having pretty feet. They will be much prettier if sensibly shod than if pinched into a pair of slippers or boots two or three sizes too small.

There is nothing in tight shoes "but discomfort and pain."

If your feet have been disfigured by the wearing of tight shoes and you are unfortunate enough to have acquired a troublesome callous spot, a painful corn or, worst of all, a bunion, see a good chiropodist without delay. Do not try to do the work of an expert yourself, for you may do yourself a serious injury. A cut on the foot acquired while trying to remove any one of the three obstructions mentioned above has been known to result in blood poisoning or lockjaw. It is better, therefore, to see some one who understands this work thoroughly, to have the feet treated in the right way, and then escape further trouble by the wearing of sensible shoes.

A BANANA SALAD.

A bunch of leaves that are fresh and green.

A celery sprig, with snowy sheen.

A pinch of mustard, brown yellow.

Bananas, ripe enough to mellow.

A hot and spicy sweet green pepper.

A shaddock next, with touch most clever.

Give us a bit of bitter flavor.

Topped off by salt to give it savor.

A nest of fresh, green and crinkly leaves

Is good to taste, and is sure to please

If you place these little mounds between

The celery stalks with silver sheen;

Place next to these snow shaddock slips,

Then layers of the green pepper strips;

Forget not, in each little hollow

To put sliced bananas, mellow.

Then fill in the space with nuts cut up

And golden cheese ball atop the cup.

Pour over these a rich French dressing.

The contents, sure, will keep you guessing.

FOR BUSINESS WEAR.

For the ordinary business suit of every-day wear gray is in great demand, so much so that a "difficult" figure in search of a ready-made may more easily find a gray suit to fit than even a navy blue. Brown is, however, much worn in all the rich new shades, and neat little four-piece skirts have been seen with wide huck and front and narrow side panels, cut at each corner and fastened by three buttons, the coat having a straight basque cut away in front.

There is the orthodox number of buttons, sleeves are small, and there is a breast pocket to display a handkerchief of colored crepe de chine. This is not presented as anything of a novelty, but simply as the typical every-day suit of the new season.

SHERIFF HOLDS OUT

Bingham, Utah, Dec. 3.—That the work of Sheriff Andrew Smith and his two hundred deputies in the last three days has been for nothing and that Ralph Lopez the Mexican bandit and murderer has not been in the Minnie mine here since Sunday was the opinion generally expressed among the miners of this camp today. This, however, is not in accordance with the belief of Sheriff Smith, who said he probably would open the mine Thursday morning when he expected to find the body of Lopez.

DEFICIT IN FUNDS OF THE DEMOCRATS

Treasurer M. C. Niezer, of the City Committee
Files Statement.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Maurice C. Niezer, treasurer of the democratic city committee, today filed his official statement of the receipts and expenditures of the committee in the late municipal campaign. It cost the committee $3,703.51 to elect William J. Hoesy and the balance of the democratic ticket and the contributions from all sources for this purpose aggregated $3,700. Treasurer Niezer reports, therefore, a deficit of $3.51, which he has made up and for which the committee is now indebted to him.

Mr. Buck's Expense Account.
Charles J. Buck, non-partisan candidate for mayor in the recent municipal elections, today filed his report of personal expenditures as a candidate. Mr. Buck spent altogether $320.65 in his race for the mayoralty. Except for $10 contributed to the non-partisan committee and 75 cents paid to a photographer, Mr. Buck's entire expenses were for printing and newspaper advertising.

Minnie Lawson on Trial in Circuit Court—Criminal Cases Disposed Of.

Minnie Lawson is on trial in the circuit court this afternoon on a charge of running an immoral resort. She was arrested a good while ago and appeared from a judgment returned against her in the city court.

Criminal Cases Heard.

In the circuit court today Judge Egge-man disposed of a number of cases on the criminal docket. Joseph Reducerski, aged 19, and Alfred Krauer, aged 22, were sentenced upon their pleas of guilty, to serve two to fourteen years in the Indiana reformatory for forgery. The two did some extensive business in crooked paper a few weeks ago, victimizing several merchants in the southeast part of the city. Other cases disposed of were: Algonis M. Martin, public indecency, $25 and costs and a suspended jail sentence of thirty days; Alex Politis, a Turkish barber, who figured in the alleged white slave cases of a pair of Warren girls some months ago, was discharged; Lon White, who robbed the Centerville Brewing company and their customers by an ingenious system, $5 and costs and a suspended jail sentence of sixty days; Sam Myers, assault and battery, dismissed; Pearl Everding, pointing a deadly weapon, dismissed; Cary Gaines and Talcott Wilson, assault and battery, dismissed. Most of these cases were on appeal from minor courts. The trial of Dr. Z. H. Stamets, for assault and battery, an appealed case, was fixed for March 25, 1914.

Minor Notes of Court.

In the circuit court Virginia Pearl Renbarger has sued Lewis A. Renbarger, et al., to set aside a conveyance and declare a lien.

The Harlan State bank is plaintiff in a superior court suit against Oscar Bonfion to recover $1,972.33 on a note.

In the superior court today Margaret Yeom was granted a divorce from Howard Yeom.

ENCROACHING ON RAILROAD'S LAND

That is What Wabash Says of People Who Complain of Embankment Wash.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

That certain property owners along the south side of the Wabash railroad, between Pine and Taylor streets, have encroached upon the railroad's right of way, is the answer of the company to complaints that the earth from the track elevation embankment is being washed into private yards. Property owners presented their complaints to the board of works and that body laid the matter before General Manager Henry Miller, of the Wabash, at St. Louis, ordering that a retaining wall be constructed along the south side of the embankment from Pine to Taylor streets. General Manager Miller has just sent his reply, as follows:

"Replying to yours of the 22d of November, calling attention to earth washing down on property in Fort Wayne: 'Our deeds indicate that certain people are encroaching upon our right of way from seven to eight feet. Therefore, the settling is on no other than Wabash property. The people complaining should show their title to the property.'"

"Very respectfully,"
"HENRY MILLER,"
General Manager for the Receiver.

If the property owners complaining want to take further steps they doubtless will first want a survey to determine whether or not they are encroaching on land belonging to the railroad or the railroad is trespassing upon their property.

STOREHOUSE ACCOUNTS.

Year's Figures for Fire Department Show Economy.

Miss Winifred Spalding, clerk to the board of safety, has just completed the tabulation of the storehouse accounts for the city fire department and the exhibit is interesting for the economy it shows to have been practiced during the past year. Supplies for the eight houses cost a total of $300.04, distributed as follows:

No. 1, $58.89; No. 2, $66.11; No. 3, $90.73; No. 4, $18.13; No. 5, $20.20; No. 6, $25.37; No. 7, $10.91; No. 8, $27.70.

Checking up with Storekeeper Jule Biener, Clerk Spalding has had a complete balance with the exception of one broom, which was procured without requisition and has been charged to the engine house getting it. The system of accounts employed by the board of safety and the establishment of a fire department storehouse has resulted in great economy. Nothing can be procured without a requisition and everything is checked and counterchecked. There is a rivalry among the houses for the honor of the most economical record in the matter of stores.

HOLDING DIPHTHERIA WELL.

Holiday Vacations Will Give Health Department Big Gain.

The health department believes a good gain is being made on the diphteria situation. Many quarantine cards have come down during the past two days and but one has gone up. Dr. Eric Crull, secretary of the health board, stated today that the situation had become much more encouraging.

"If we can control the situation well from this on to the holiday vacation in the schools we shall have a strangle hold on the scourge," said Dr. Crull. "We are doing mighty fine as it is. We have not been obliged to close a single school room in Fort Wayne and we are not going to be obliged to. In practically every city of the state it has been necessary to close schools to a greater or less extent. So we have been faring better than our neighbors. We shall soon have this visitation down to the minimum."

The records today show that there are 23 cases of diphteria in 15 families and 4 cases of scarlet fever in 4 families.

WILL HAVE ANOTHER MEETING.

The council committee on finance will have another conference before the regular meeting, next Tuesday night, to consider the ordinance appropriating $7,279.81 to the street intersection account to pay for the city's share of street pavement recently completed. At last night's meeting two members of the committee were absent and a report will not be prepared until the entire five members have been enabled to consider the measure together.

LITTLE FOR THE PARK BOARD.

There was little outside routine business for the park board to consider at this afternoon's meeting. President D. N. Foster, of the board, has gone to New York and Washington.

SHERMAN STREET OPENING.

In the Bloomingdale school tonight there will be a meeting of property owners affected by the opening of Sherman street, to consider a tentative assessment roll of benefits and damages prepared by Charles J. Steiss, John A. Bushman and James Erwin, who were appointed a committee to prepare the roll. The property owners desire to know approximately what it will cost each of them to have Sherman street opened.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

Possibility.

SHAKE UP PIRATES

Albert Mamaux, a youth who reported here last spring, and whose principal claim to a place on the Fort Wayne team lay in the fact that he had been in the best hotels on his own expense, had a change of clothing for every day in the week, and was imbued with an overpowering desire to learn the seductive and dangerous game of draw poker, is spoken of as a possible trading material by David J. Davies, of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, who also includes Alex McCarthy, and who says:

"What players will Fred Clarke place on the market when he reaches New York next Monday morning?"

"Will Cozy Dolan be one of them? Will Mike Simon be offered on the block? Will Mike Simon be included as a bit of trading material? Will Eddie Menor, Wilbur Cooper, Albert Starnay, Artie Butler, Alex McCarthy be given up if the manager can, by doing so, bolster up those spots discovered last season to be weak?"

"Mike Mitchell will hardly be retained. The ex-Reds' captain has outlived his usefulness as a major league player, if his performance last season is to be accepted as a criterion. Hence we may safely pass up Mike and take it for granted that he will be among the missing during 1914."

"Wilson will hardly be kept, as it is a faster and more aggressive player can be obtained to play right field. The club is a good mechanical player, but as we said about him by a well known Cincinnati sport writer, 'he isn't human.' This sport writer paid Wilson the tribute of saying that he was one of the least merciful players the game has ever seen. 'Still,' said he, 'he isn't worth much to a club which is up there fighting. He goes out and does his bit in a sure-fire, accurate, but he isn't a human. I would give a ten-dollar note to see Wilson drop a flyball just to prove that he was human.'"

"Wilson has batted well since becoming a Pirate. He has been no glider, no aggressiveness; Wilson has played just as though he would say, 'Thank you to the man who put in his hand, and I will be the Quaker pilot.'"

"Few Pittsburgh fans believe that Dolan will be found at the three-quarter station next season. The writer doesn't believe that Clarke has any idea of trying him there (or elsewhere in the Pittsburgh lineup) again. This means, then, that a third baseman will have to be retained."

"Some of the followers of the game believe Artie Butler could fill Bobby Byrne's shoes. The little Frenchman will hit better than the 'Pride of the patch' did, but whether he will field as well is a matter of doubt. It may be that Butler will get the assignment."

"Clarke in his letter to President Drexler, which was received yesterday, declined to commit himself as regards trades. He said he would take the matter over with the club owner after both arrived in New York next week. In the meantime, rumors are beginning to circulate and hardly anything connected with the Pittsburgh club would surprise the fans just now."

ROMINE BACK IN CLASS A. A. BALL

Old Fort Wayne Pitcher
Gets One More Crack
in Association.

FAILED IN CENTRAL

Frank Romine, who started his baseball career with the semi-professional teams of this section, and whose first professional engagement was secured from Jack Hendricks when he managed the Fort Wayne club, has been picked up by Indianapolis and has signed a contract to pitch for the club in 1914.

When Romine started here he looked like one of the best prospects in the game because he could not only pitch good baseball but his batting was a feature and he became the regular punch hitter of the team and substitute outfielder.

For a few weeks he was a sensation when suddenly his arm went back on him and he was let out after a long trial to see whether or not there was a chance for him to come back. He was always a hardworking player of good habits, and was popular here, and his friends lamented the loss of his salary.

Nothing was heard of him for a year or two until reports were circulated that a pitcher in the Mayville club of the Blue Grass league was displaying great form and at the close of the season he was picked up by Columbus.

Jack in better company, the old trouble with the arm hobbled again and he was last sight of by Central league fans for a few years to be up again as a pitcher on the Akron staff in the twelve-club circuit days.

Columbus recalled him and held him as long as it could, and now he is going to a pitching staff that is lamentably weak, and he may get the show that will prove his making.

Ed Doty is another player that is evidently coming back. After several attempts on the part of different managers of the Evansville team to make a pitcher of him, Aggie Grant tried to teach him the art of holding so that his batting strength might become available but he didn't learn and drifted out of the Central. He is now with the Vancouver, B. C. team, and has signed his contract for next season.

Charlie Pick evidently gave satisfaction as a member of the Toronto club, as his contract has been sent in to Secretary John H. Farrell and all he has to do is to wait for the training season, having come to terms with his team for 1914.

John C. Hendricks has signed to pilot the Denver club next season after his failure to land at Indianapolis, due principally to the fact that a trade for the Indiana fell through after it had been all but consummated.

Some of the Central league clubs are picking up recruits for the spring tryouts and Farrell's bulletin shows that Al J. Puchs and Homer Clay have signed with Dayton, Robert Van Stenberg, Earl W. Keiser, Oscar Freking and Forest Cordell with Springfield, while Oscar C. Miller and G. J. Monahan have accepted terms with Dayton.

Billy Nixon, the fleet outfielder of the Erie club of 1912, has been turned back by Toledo and transferred to Waterbury, Conn., and George Wheeler is again the property of the Terre Haute club as Indianapolis cannot use him.

The Chicago Nationals have turned over George C. Schwarm to Terre Haute, and the bulletin shows that Fort Wayne has sold pitcher Hanna to Cincinnati.

In addition to the opening game of the schedule which will be played at Decatur Saturday night, the Fort Wayne high school girls' basketball team has scheduled two battles with the Lakeside normal school girls' basketball team, Jan. 22 and Feb. 6.

Most of the members of the normal school five played on the high school squad of last season and opportunity will be afforded to judge which is the stronger of the two.

FANS WILL LOOK
YOUNGSTER OVER

Case of Ollie O'Mara Will Prove Whether Brooklyn is Right.

HAD BEEN DISCARDED

Brooklyn, Dec. 3.—One of the paradoxes of baseball is the way some clubs will persist in trying out a young player who has been passed up by another team. Now Brooklyn intends taking Ollie O'Mara, the youngster whom Providence had last year, and giving him a chance at shortstop. O'Mara graduated from Hamilton, Mo., in 1912, and was snapped up by Detroit and turned over to Providence. He went great guns down south at Durham and came back as the team's regular shortstop, but soon after the season started the youngster—he isn't 20 yet—began to lose his nerve. He finally got discouraged and jumped out one day without so much as "goodbye" boys, and went to his home in St. Louis.

Repenting of his rash step, O'Mara

SOUTH BEND FOR THE FIRST GAME

Commercial to Open the Basket Ball Season at St. Mary's.

MEN WORKING HARD

Negotiations have been closed with the Commercial basketball team of South Bend for the opening of the season at St. Mary's hall and the first game will be played on the evening of Dec. 13.

This game will mark the opening of the new home of the club, which removes one of the greatest handicaps the management has ever worked under as Odeon hall was never adapted to basketball, while the hall at St. Mary's is spacious, giving plenty of floor space and seating capacity and affording an opportunity to put up a net.

Commercial has played in Fort Wayne, and as the club was constituted on its last appearance it was one of the fastest aggregations that had ever shown here. It played open style very similar to that of the Saints, and the two clubs put up an interesting struggle.

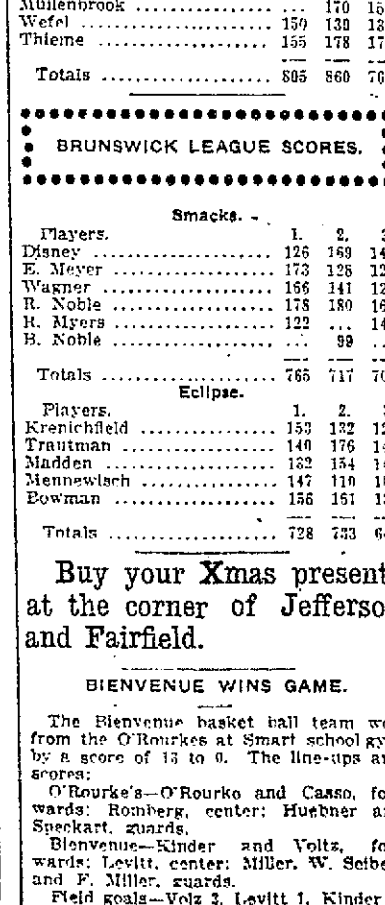

Coach Tholen has not picked his club so far because he expects a few new men to report, and some fine material is in prospect for the season. The old members of the club and the tryouts are getting into shape rapidly and will be ready for the opening fray.

Zanesville, the team that won over Concordia college, is out for a game with St. Mary's club, and Manager C. E. Weaver writes that he would like to have a booking in December. This club will play tomorrow night at Turner hall against the Juniors. Mary's is a splendid hard game as it has due respect for the strength of the Turners.

Manager Weaver says his men are feeling fine after the victory over Concordia, and that he is highly pleased. He adds that when he went into the game he entered with a crippled club as Crowe and Captain Walters had played football against Bluffton on Thanksgiving and Jacobs went in seriously injured.

He will be in shape for the next game and the team will come here stronger than it has ever been. Much depends on the game at Turner hall as a victory for Zanesville gives it the right to be considered by St. Mary's and the Friars.

LIVELY BIDDING
FOR JOE TINKER

Several Clubs in the National League Can Use Him Nicely.

CHICAGO HAS TRADE

Chicago, Dec. 3.—If Joe Tinker can be secured for the Cubs next season to play short, the west sliders will win the pennant. Almost every roster for the Cubs believes this. Manager Evers would be more than glad to get his old partner back again, and Tinker would be glad to return to the team where he made his reputation and where he played for many years. He is interested in a business in Chicago which he could give some attention during the summer if he was playing here, and this is a strong reason in Tinker's mind for wishing to be a member of Evers' 1914 aggregation.

While Tinker may be allowed to influence the Cincinnati club to a certain extent in trading him where he wants to go, the chances will be against his coming back to Chicago if the officers of the Reds are to be considered. One very important rule in the conduct of baseball managers is to keep the other fellow from winning. To build over a man who will make a strong team much stronger would be considered the most foolish tactics imaginable in baseball.

Tinker would bolster up the Cub infield so it would be as strong as in its palmy days. He played as well last season as he ever did and still has several years of playing left. The shortstop position needs bolstering if the team is to be stronger than it was last year. While Bridwell played a good game, he does not fit as well and does not hit in Tinker's class, so the change would be a very desirable one.

The Cubs are not the only team in the National League that would be glad to get Tinker's services. McGraw would jump at the chance to get the old Cub star, and the Dodgers are in need of a tried and experienced shortstop such as the departed Red leader. The bidding for Tinker will be lively, and it is unlikely that his disposition will be settled for some time. The club which can offer Cincinnati the best proposition in return for the veteran will, of course, have the best show for the prize, and it is quite possible that Evers can dish up a trade that will look very good to Garry Herrmann and his stockholders.

The Reds will be weak in battery positions and will be without a shortstop of big league caliber. If Roger Bresnahan and Red Corridon can be offered to the Cincinnati people it would plug up two holes in their team. The Reds are just the kind of catcher Cincinnati wants. His great experience and good judgment would fill a place that has troubled the Reds for two years. Evers could afford to let go Bridwell, because Archer is in line this year, and there will be no hitch in getting him to report for spring training.

Last spring Archer was a holdout and did not appear at all in training camp. He has signed a long term contract, however, so there is no need of the precaution necessary last year on the part of the local club. Red Corridon is a good shortstop. He will be a better man when played regularly than he was last season, when he was only a substitute.

Dicker With Erie Reveals That Ottawa Club
Made $6,000.

HAD BIG MILEAGE

Erie, Pa., Dec. 3.—Whether or not Erie will be in the Canadian league next year will be decided at a meeting of the stockholders this week.

Managers of the Canadian league are anxious to have Erie join the organization and the matter now is in the hands of the directors.

"This is the only thing open for us now," said President O'Connor, "and if the directors are favorable I will attend the league meeting at Toronto."

President W. A. Mahony, of the Guelph club, was here last week and conferred with O'Connor regarding the transfer of his franchise to this city. His offer was that he would clear $6,000 on the league meeting at Toronto, if he had provided he could hold 50 per cent. of the stock.

President O'Connor told him he would not consent to this. The local magnates do not let him have 50 per cent. of the stock for his team.

If Erie can obtain the Guelph franchise under the right conditions the Canadian league will be made stronger. Guelph and Berlin are the weak sisters in the organization. Ottawa is the strongest. The Berlin franchise to Niagara Falls the league would gain two good towns.

A statement of the traveling expenses of the league was shown Mr. O'Connor by the president. Ottawa cleared $6,000 on her 1913 campaign despite the fact that the team traveled double the number of miles than all other teams of the league. The total mileage for Ottawa was 5,684 while her other seven teams traveled only 2,574 miles.

Confidence—the Bulwark of The Autopiano

THERE is not a thing that you buy—if you try to buy wisely—that has not your confidence. Think it over—food, clothing, furniture—every successful brand has the supreme confidence of a great public. That's the secret of its success.

THE AUTOPIANO—among a large number of player-pianos—is mankind's final choice the world over for one great, logical reason. It has demonstrated over and over that it can be depended on for everything a player-piano should offer. The public is buying THE AUTOPIANO, confident that it will play better, last longer and look better at a given, reasonable price than any other player-piano made.

So far—THE AUTOPIANO has not betrayed the public's confidence. It never will.

THE AUTOPIANO is built in the largest factory on earth that devotes itself exclusively to player-pianos. From the day the wood is selected in the lumber yard—each detail is under an expert eye. Each unnecessary part is eliminated—each detail is made as simple and flawless as it can be. THE AUTOPIANO leaves the factory the most perfect of players and ready to look the world of hard work squarely in the eye.

As dealers, we can sell THE AUTOPIANO with confidence. We know that we speak plain truth in saying, "This player-piano will serve you better and longer than any other I could suggest. It is practically immune to serious breakdowns. I know of no other player I could say as much for."

The purchaser and his entire family can expect THE AUTOPIANO to play and interpret the best music in the world for them. It will do this naturally, easily and without adding a mechanical flavor to the music.

Behind both dealer and purchaser stands the unwavering confidence that the makers have in THE AUTOPIANO. This faith is written in plain, unevanescent English in a signed guarantee that each purchaser may have with his AUTOPIANO.

That is a guarantee of conscience and confidence!

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh of the bladder is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Catarrh of the bladder is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and secretions of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Twenty-Five Years in Service.

WILLIAM J. HAAS.

The business men, manufacturers and shippers of Fort Wayne will readily recognize in the above half-tone picture the features of William J. Haas, chief clerk at the Pennsylvania freight office, whom they have met in a business way for a number of years. Yesterday Mr. Haas rounded out twenty-five years in the freight department of the Pennsylvania and the past five or six years of his service has been in his present capacity. He was promoted to that position to succeed Charles M. Jones, who was advanced to the office of cashier. Mr. Haas is an old time sailor and before coming to Fort Wayne was employed on trans-Atlantic steamers, with headquarters in Australia, for a number of years. His first work at the Pennsylvania depot was as a clerk in the freight warehouse and he was soon transferred to the clerical force in the main office of Agent E. H. Kirkland.

Pennsylvania engineers. Among the men affected are Engineers C. H. Platt and W. H. Polhamus, who had charge of the engines pulling the Vandallia trains 81 and 82, and who have been assigned to trains 17 and 82 between this city and Chicago; Engineers C. C. Ellenwood, Charles Rogers, H. G. Burke and D. H. Wilbert, who have been transferred from the passenger to the freight service. Other changes resulting from the new time card have not been completed.

FOUNDRY CLERK CHANGES.

Howard Sunderland has resigned as clerk at the Bass foundry and taken a clerical position with the Perfection Blasting company. Mr. Sunderland has been with the Bass company about a year, taking employment there immediately after he returned from the army, where he served four years. Later he was an apprentice at the Fort Wayne Electric works, has been employed to take the position vacated by Mr. Sunderland. He commenced work this morning.

MORE TRAINS ON NICKEL PLATE.

A refreshing bit of news these times, when there is a great falling off in traffic of all kinds, will be found in the following clipping from the Bellevue-Gazette: "Increased business on the Nickel Plate will result, in a few days, in the placing in service of five additional short haul trains. The crews will be in service between this city and Continental and will do switching at Continental and Leipsic."

AUXILIARY PEDRO PARTY.

Tomorrow evening Fort Wayne lodge, No. 438, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will give a public Pedro party at the home of Mrs. Catherine Bays, 125 East Woodland avenue. In entertaining the guests Mrs. Bays will be assisted by Mrs. Bolens, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Obenchain and Mrs. Schultz.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The employees of the G. R. & I. received their wages today. Pennsylvania Fireman Harry Frost is off duty on account of sickness. Blacksmith J. Fraine, of the Pennsylvania, is off duty on account of the funeral of a friend. Raymond Hoffman left at noon today for Lafayette on business for the Fort Wayne Electric works. William Rehm, a boilermaker at the Wabash shops, was presented with a baby daughter yesterday. Michael Connors, Sherman Bittler, J. H. Beck and H. J. Knorson, of the Pennsylvania shops, are sick and off duty. W. B. Mudara, special man at the Pennsylvania machine shop, is on duty again, after being sick three or four days. Clarence Koehlinger, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, has been called to the motive power offices to do special work for awhile. J. J. Mattes, a boilermakers' helper, who had a finger hurt a week ago, was able to resume work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. Julian Speer, compensator representative of the Fort Wayne Electric works, left at noon today for St. Louis on business for the company. Machinist J. W. Fletcher, of the Pennsylvania, had a hand badly bruised and cut yesterday by a guy block falling upon it. He will be unable to work for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Timme and son have returned from Defiance, Ohio, where they were the guests a few days of a couple who will leave in a few days for Germany to spend the winter. Mr. Timme is a contractor. The Wabash will soon put a block system in operation between this city and Hugo. A number of men from the Union Switch and Signal company have been engaged in the work for two or three weeks and have it nearly completed. The Lackawanna Railroad must pay a $2,000 fine for transporting its own hay to feed mules in its mines. That, in the opinion of the supreme court, was a violation of the commodities clause of the Federal law, and a conviction in a lower court was sustained yesterday. Tracy W. Bauer, for many years employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works and later with the Wabash shops, has opened a general electric repair and construction shop. When the Wabash let out a number of men Mr. Bauer, who was one of them, refused to go to Defiance to work in the company's new shops.

HYGIENE IS BEST CRIME PREVENTER

Dr. J. N. Hurty of State Health Board Gives a Lecture.

THEN ENJOYS FEAST

"Fresh air is more potent than all the medicines in the world," said Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the state board of health, in an address Tuesday evening at the assembly room of the courthouse. "If fresh air is taken as a universal treatment in Indiana, it will be a healthier and happier state. Consumption is merely the result of air starvation. Any person who is well nourished and has plenty of air will not have tuberculosis."

"Hygiene can prevent more crime than any law. That Indiana is supporting an institution in Fort Wayne, 1,300 feeble-minded persons and has five times that many in the state is bad business," said Dr. Hurty. "The same is true of insanity. If right living had been taught in Indiana fifty years ago and continued until this time the insane asylums and homes for indigents would be far less in number and inhabitants."

"Bread is one of the greatest sources of disease," said Dr. Hurty, "and by that I mean bread, which predominates in the diet of the people. Of twenty-two loaves from as many different farm homes that we analyzed, we found that twenty of them would produce dyspepsia. When you reduce your digestive powers you let down the gates to disease and that is just what is occurring in a majority of the homes of Indiana every day. Bad bread means dyspepsia, ill health, disease and finally death."

"Every day in the restaurants of your city and in countless homes, too, can be seen causes of bad health—people gulping their food. We are a nation in a hurry and are ruining our health by not devoting more time to our eating and to seeing that our food is prepared properly."

"Health is a business proposition and the business man must look at it in that light. He must realize—and business men all over the state are beginning to do so—that greater efficiency can come through the well being of his employees. He must provide healthful surroundings for his help."

"We cut consumption," he declared. "We do not ventilate our school rooms."

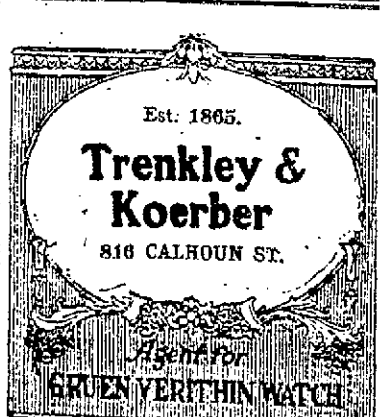

BREAKS A COLD, NEEDS NO HELP

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe colds or grippe in few hours.

You can end grippe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and sniffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at a drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no incoherent. Be sure you get the genuine.—A.D.

our business offices nor our homes. The latter is particularly true of farm homes. Statistics show that consumption is decreasing in the cities while it maintains its rate in the rural districts. "Typhoid fever is a result of improper disposition of garbage. It has been successfully combated by the cities and some of the more progressive smaller towns of the state but in the villages and in the country it is allowed to continue its ravages simply because the people cannot be brought to understand that their lives could be saved by exercising proper methods."

Dr. Crull Entertains. Following the meeting, Dr. Hurty was the guest of honor at a feast given by Dr. E. A. Crull, secretary of the city board of health, at his residence, to newspaper men of the city with whom he has been associated during the past four years.

TRIBUTE TO LATE A. ELY HOFFMAN

Old National Directors Offer a Memorial of Respect.

WAS A BOARD MEMBER

Directors of the Old National bank, assembled in regular monthly session, adopted resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Andrew Ely Hoffman, a member of the board. The resolution follows:

"Mr. Andrew Ely Hoffman for many years a stockholder and valued customer of this bank, was in January, 1901, elected a member of its board of directors, and thereafter, until his death on the 8th day of November, 1913, performed the duties of his trust with singular ability, fidelity and integrity. He won an all retained the respect and confidence of all his associates by his ability, his rugged honesty, his firm and resolute sense of right and justice. He was conscientious, industrious, faithful. His life was pure and admirable. The simplicity of his life and character was conspicuous and demonstrated the truth that by industry, by perseverance, by energy and will power, by absolute integrity the field of success is open to every American youth who possesses such qualities of character."

"He was a successful man of business, wise in counsel, strong in conviction, courageous in right doing—a splendid type of an American citizen, a tender and affectionate husband and father."

"The same unflinching faith, the same cheerfulness of spirit that accompanied him throughout the day-time of life remained with him when the long night was drawing its curtains about him for his long and quiet sleep. To the final summons he answered: 'I am ready.'"

"He was in every walk of life worthy of this honor we do him. The members of this board sincerely mourn his loss and honor his memory."

"Resolved, That this memorial and tribute of affection and respect for the life and character of our deceased associate, Mr. Andrew Ely Hoffman, be made a part of the minutes of this meeting and a copy thereof delivered to his bereaved widow."

W. H. CANNIFF HERE TWO HOURS

Nickel Plate President Came to Get Day Light View of Fort Wayne.

WABASH WAGE COMMITTEE MEETS

The Allied Crafts Send Representatives to Talk to Needham.

W. H. Canniff, president of the Nickel Plate, spent two hours in Fort Wayne yesterday afternoon. He came down from Cleveland in his private car on train No. 1 and left for home on No. 2 at 3 o'clock. With Mr. Canniff were E. A. Miller, superintendent of motive power, and Master Mechanic W. G. Black, who had been looking after business matters at Bellevue and joined the president on the trip to this city. Supt.

TO DISCUSS WAGES.

Committee of Wabash Employees Go to Springfield.

Frank J. Schwanz, of the pipefitters; Wentz Gabriel, of the machinists; Roy Weaver, of the blacksmiths, and Ed Seibold, of the blacksmiths, left yesterday for Springfield where with similar representatives from other shops on the Wabash system they will hold conferences with E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power, concerning a proposition for a wage increase. The amount demanded by the men is from two to five cents per hour for day work and a 10 per cent increase for piece work. The conference will probably continue a week or ten days and it is expected to result in a mutual agreement.

Catarrh Hurts More Than is Realized

For Weak, Watery Eyes, to Cure Deafness, Sore Throat, Lame Kidneys, Weak Chest—Here's the Remedy.

Let It Come! The Red Blooded S. S. S. Man Defies the Weather.

A host of people have been completely cured of Catarrh by the famous blood purifier S. S. S. There's another host daily finding with their saliva, mucus and acids have been washed up to the fact that Catarrh comes from impure blood. To begin with S. S. S. cleans the stomach of those accumulations that cause Catarrh and Catarrh of the Intestines. By doing this the pure blood enters the lungs. Pure blood is thus supplied to the entire body. It requires pure blood to get the weakness out of the eyes, pure blood must be supplied to the delicate machinery of the ears, the throat, the kidneys and all other parts of the body, all of which are made up of a myriad of tiny cells and all surrounded by a net work of small blood vessels. It is in these cells and these interlacings of blood vessels that S. S. S. does its work. The entire blood supply is thus inoculated with the antiodic medicinal effect of S. S. S. Instead of the abnormal secretions of mucus spreading their inflammatory influence into the kidneys, the lungs, the throat and bronchial tubes, washing the eyes, plugging the ears and causing a constant dribbling at the nose, the membranes soon become clear and moistened with healthy lubricants.

It has been fully demonstrated that in S. S. S. there is one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to select from the blood the new required nutriment. And this activity includes the membranes and the structural tissues of the body.

You will soon realize the wonderful influence by the absence of frontal headache, a decided clearing of the air passages, the disappearance of thick mucus from the nose and throat and a Chicago Market.

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Better weather today in Argentina and increased estimates of the yield in that country had a bearing effect on wheat. The opening was a shade to 3c lower, and there was a subsequent decline.

The close was from a shade to 1/4c above last night.

Despite rains west and southwest, corn displayed weakness owing to lack of support. Speculation in shorts in December, however, led to a decline in price of that option. The market opened 1/4c up of that option. The market opened 1/4c up of that option. The market opened 1/4c up of that option.

Closing figures were steady at sixteenth to 1/16c net advance.

Oats declined under selling pressure from elevator firms which were hedging in May while buying December. Trade otherwise was quiet.

Lower prices for hogs carried down provisions. First sales were the same as last night to 2 1/2c cheaper, with a decided fall afterward.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 2.—The active stocks were generally higher at the opening today. Erie was again in good demand and the Can shares made a further recovery from their recent slump. Can preferred gained a point. New Haven also rose a point. Advances elsewhere were limited to fractions.

Efforts to carry further yesterday's rise met with small success. Traders were bearish and did not permit the slight opening advance to proceed. Realizing on long stock wherever small profits were obtainable effectively leveled down the list, so that at noon prices were virtually unchanged from yesterday's close. The market was indifferent to unfavorable news. Further reduction in working forces by railroad earnings were reported. Bonds were irregular.

The market closed strong. Bullish enthusiasm found expression in an unusually active and buoyant market before the session closed. Persistence of demand for the big speculative stocks caused concern among the bears and there was a hasty scramble to cover in all directions.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

If I had a farm I would farm it; if I owned a business block I would rent it out; if I wanted a cow bar I would go to a hardware store—not to a barber shop; if I desired a washing machine I would not go to a drug store (alibi), at times, we've noted signs at some proclaiming the sale of hot soup and lunch; if I wanted toys I would go to a TOY STORE—to a man who makes a regular business of it—not to a military shop, nor a dry goods store, nor a shoe merchant, nor a clothing store, nor to a furniture emporium. This is an age when capitalists and monopoly, with self-interest and greed, are driving the little merchants out of business but I wish to announce that for the 20th consecutive holiday season I am showing the largest and best assortment of dolls and toys in the city and PRICES ARE RIGHT. No stairs to climb, no elevator to ascend to a third or fourth floor, everything right out on display on the first floor and price marked plainly. It is to your advantage to purchase your toys from this city's most experienced toy man.

FINAL PLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. MEETING

General Committee Holds a Session at Anthony Hotel.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM

Practically the entire membership of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the Y. M. C. A. state convention is attending the meeting here.

C. B. KESSINGER, Vincennes Man State President of Indiana Y. M. C. A.

ing held this afternoon at the Anthony hotel. This is the final meeting of the committee before the opening of the convention on Friday morning and some of the early delegates will begin to reach the city Thursday evening. It is thought that most of the state officials will be here by Thursday evening.

The Official Program. Advance sheets of the official program for the forty-fourth annual state convention for the Indiana Young Men's Christian association were made public today by the state executive committee. The program shows the addition of at least one speaker of international reputation—J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, who will address the Saturday afternoon session of the convention at the First Baptist church on the subject of "The Compelling Challenge of the Present World Situation." Mr. White was for ten years a secretary of the Young Men's Christian association in Calcutta, India, and during recent years has been engaged in a remarkable work as secretary of the nation-wide missionary movement. He will come to Fort Wayne from Detroit.

Automobile excursions have been arranged by courtesy of the Fort Wayne committees to places of interest, including Old Fort Place, Swinney park, the state school and some of the great factories. Delegates will leave the First Baptist church, convention headquarters, at 10 a. m. on Friday for those excursions. The credential and entertainment committees will be on duty at the church after 10 a. m. Friday for registration and placing of delegates.

Shop meetings will occupy the noon hour on Friday. These will be under direct charges of A. B. Minear, international railroad secretary, and "film" Burwick, of the Duluth and Iron Range railroad. Mr. and Mrs. George Crane, of Two Harbors, Mich., will sing.

Opening Program. The convention will open at 2:30 p. m. Friday with the appointment of committees by President C. B. Kessinger, of Vincennes, and an address by Henry M. Dowling, of Indianapolis, vice chairman of the state executive committee, on the subject, "Religious Leadership."

Following the Dowling address will come the presentation of annual reports of the state committees by John C. Hagwell, Marion, state chairman, and John F. Wallick, Indianapolis, state treasurer. Rev. Ernest Rounner Allen, of Toledo, O., will address the meeting later on the subject, "The Assertion of a Great Personality."

Mr. Kessinger also will preside at the business men's dinner in the Elks' temple, A. W. Johnston, Cleveland, general manager of the Nickel Plate railroad, will deliver an address on "The Association a Great Safety Factor." E. E. Stacy, state secretary for Indiana, will discuss "Indiana's New Buildings."

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: make a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing at any time.—Adv.

"CASCARETS" FIX SOUR STOMACHS

Sluggish Bowels cause Gases, Indigestion and Food Fermentation.

Get a 10-cent box now. That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be repleted until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

and Activities," and illustrate his talk with stereopticon slides; Frank C. Ball, of Toledo, will talk on "Our Most Valuable Assets."

Student delegates to the convention will have their dinner at the same time at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ. Dr. Thomas C. Howe, president of Butler college, will preside at the dinner and program following. Speakers at this dinner are Charles C. Hayes, of Hillsdale, Mich., whose subject will be "A Significant Association Development," and A. H. Lichty, state secretary of Ohio, whose topic will be "Paying College Debts."

Saturday Program. Saturday morning the sessions will begin at 9 o'clock in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, with an address by Rev. E. B. Allen, of Toledo, O., on "The Acknowledgment of the Great Obligation." The association program in Indiana will be discussed at 10 o'clock, after which reports of committees on the state officers' reports will be heard. The convention business will be taken up at 11 o'clock, according to the present schedule. It will consist of committee reports; election of officers for 1914; invitations for the convention of 1914; announcement of Sunday speakers.

Saturday at noon a number of shop meetings will be held. Dr. Allen, of Toledo, will open the Saturday afternoon session at the First Baptist church with an address on "The Assurance of a Great Destiny." He will be followed at 3 o'clock by one of the most prominent speakers in the entire program, J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, New York, whose subject will be "The Compelling Challenge of the Present World Situation."

Following the White address, delegates will divide into their respective groups for conferences. City association delegates will remain in the Baptist church auditorium. President Kessinger will preside at their meeting. Speakers will be W. H. Bell, secretary physical department international committee, on "International Department Progress." Supper will follow at the Young Women's Christian association.

Railroad department delegates will gather at the railroad department building, 1407 Calhoun street, where they will hold a round table. Frank E. Smith, mayor of Elkhart and superintendent of the Lake Shore, will preside. Speakers will be A. Bruce Minear, railroad secretary of the international committee, and Ralph V. Sollitt, of Peru, on "A Goal for 1914 in Educational Lines." Members of this group will be guests of the Fort Wayne railroad department at supper in its building.

Student association delegates will meet in the assembly room of the library. Dr. Howe, of Butler college, will be the presiding officer. Addresses will be made by A. H. Lichty, state secretary of Ohio, on "The Student Association, Why and How?" and by Dr. John M. Coulter, of the University of Chicago, on "The Broad Scope of the Student Association." Members of the group will be guests of the Fort Wayne committees at supper at Christ's Evangelical Lutheran church.

The Boys' Dinner. An interesting event for the boys of the city is scheduled for Saturday evening at the First Methodist church. This will be a dinner for 400 boys. The arrangements are in charge of Edwin T. Jackson, scout commissioner. J. L. Mogge, general secretary of the Evansville association, will be the speaker.

The evening session at the First Baptist church will begin with a song service conducted by E. F. Yarnelle, of Fort Wayne. Scripture reading and prayer is in charge of Rev. C. Claud Travis, president of the Fort Wayne Ministerial association. The Hayden quartet of this city will also appear.

At 8 o'clock Prof. John M. Coulter, of the University of Chicago, will deliver an address on "The Real Test of Civilization." He will be followed by Charles S. Hayes, of Hillsdale, Mich., who will speak on "The Expanding Business of the Association."

Sunday Program. A devotional service for delegates will be held Sunday morning at 9:15 in the assembly room of the public library, led by Major C. E. Reed, of Culver Military academy. At the regular church services Sunday morning addresses will be made by C. B. Kessinger, A. B. Minear, W. H. Ball, A. H. Lichty, P. B. Williams, J. M. Burwick, George Crane, Dr. E. A. Hanley, Rev. Oscar R. McKay, Dr. C. S. Woods and others.

Sunday afternoon three big meetings will be in progress at the same time. The men's mass meeting will be held at the Elks' temple and will be addressed by Dr. E. A. Hanley, president of Franklin college. At the same time State Secretary Lichty, of Ohio, will be addressing a meeting of Fort Wayne boys at the First Methodist church. A general meeting of the women of Fort Wayne, arrangements for which are being made by the religious work department of the local Young Women's Christian association, will take place at 4:30 at the Plymouth Congregational church. Ernest L. Mogge, general secretary of the Evansville association, will address this meeting. In the evening union services will be
